Dear Sir/Madam,

I'm writing to you to express my very grave concerns regarding the proposed sub-station planned for greenehills farm - located at Knocknagappagh inch, Killeigh, Co Cork. Such a developement were it to go ahead would have devestating concequences were it to catch ~~fire~~ fire. The site itself isn't at-all suitable for such a developement as its surrounded with dwelling houses. This is ~~in itself~~ not an industrial site its a beautiful part of the county. Rath Fort is 700m away from the proposed developement and the vibration during construction may have a negative effect on the fort. Inch is a very beautiful place, a village with a church, community centre & lots of houses, its prone to flooding in the Recent past and ~~im~~ ~~im~~ im sure ~~that~~ if you add a substation coupled with hundreds of acres of Solar Panels flooding would be a regular accourance. Please take another look elsewhere

Yours sincerely

Kevin Greene
