Delay in deciding planning cases

1st August, 2017 - An Bord Pleanála is advising that there is currently a delay in deciding planning appeals and applications. This is due to capacity constraints at Board level which will be resolved in the coming months as new Board members take up their posts at An Bord Pleanála.

We would like to reassure customers that every action is being taken to ensure their case is processed and decided as quickly as possible. Certain categories of cases, for example, strategic infrastructure, major housing developments and school projects will continue to be prioritised for decision.

An Bord Pleanála apologises for any inconvenience caused and wishes to thank customers for their patience during this time.

Thank you.
