A chara,

Tidy Towns Malahide wish to support the above project in view of the combined pressures of Climate Change and Energy Security.

While it is accepted that the building of this project will cause major disruption to large numbers of citizens, and considerable damage to the marine floor where the pipes will be laid, we must recognise that these difficulties will be relatively short-lived and limited compared to the disruption and damage that is predicted with ongoing climate change.

In 2020 the Department of Climate, Energy and the Environment committed that by 2030, the government would meet the following targets:

- Up to 80% renewable electricity;
- A 51% reduction in greenhouse gas emissions by 2030 (relative to 2018 levels);

In the National interest and in the interest of future generations of Ireland, we urge that this project is progressed as quickly as possible.

Best wishes,

Heidi Bedell
