I will forward an outline programme for the CIA, however, at a high level it is worth saying the following:

1. The completion of the Cumulative Impact Assessment will be a number of weeks – I currently predict 4 -5 weeks, but because of the unknown nature of this work and lack of precedent, it is possible we will come across some speed bumps that will slow us down;
2. Similar for the In Combination Assessment (for NIS), but this needs to be confirmed by SC who are currently addressing this issue for the Bus Connects Blackrock JR.
3. For the other [REDACTED] issues i.e PFAS, Sludge Hub centre, Ringsend WwTP, Cable Routes and WFD query, we will need c. 2 weeks to complete.

Overall, a decision to include the additional material referenced above would result in a delay in the readvertisement of the Oral Hearing material.

To my mind we are going out to consultation on a significant quantum of additional material already as requested by the Board. This is likely to raise further potentially significant queries/questions/submissions that we will need to address in the response document. In that context, I would see merit in addressing the [REDACTED] submission items there (rather than delay the re-advertisement). Then the Board will be in a position to review our responses to all of these items to decide whether to approve, RFI or to set up another Oral Hearing.

I hope that this helps

Best Regards

I was hoping you might come back to us over the course of late Wednesday/early Thursday with an indicative time-frame for completion of (i) the cumulative impacts assessment (CIA) and (ii) the response to the [REDACTED] Wild Ireland Defence submission.

From our call earlier today on CIA, I know you mentioned it would be a number of weeks and you/[REDACTED] would prepare an outline roadmap of what that might look like.

We're trying to get a sense of that time-frame for the purpose of preparing a note for the TII project board ahead of their meeting on Tues (as per Aidan's request this evening). That note will advise on what documents we might seek to introduce of our own accord. We're reviewing the priorities list, but these are the two that stand out at present.

That advice to the project board may also need to factor in time contingencies (i.e. the OH docs are ready to be published/advertised, but understandably we still have a bit of way to go on the CIA and the [REDACTED] response).

We're looking to understand when you think we'll have these two documents finalised (having been subject to legal review as well).

In the meantime, I hope you've a lovely evening ahead to mark the anniversary and that you're not seeing this until the morning!

Thanks,
