

Exhibit MH 1 p – abstraction from the Boyne River at the Boyne Aqueduct.

Photo no 1 shows the pumping equipment on the banks at the Boyne Aqueduct.

Photo no 2, shows water being pumped to the 'Long level' at the Boyne Aqueduct.

Photo no 3. Lock no 18 – water being pumped up to the next level.

Photo no 4. Lock no 18 – water being pumped up to the next level.

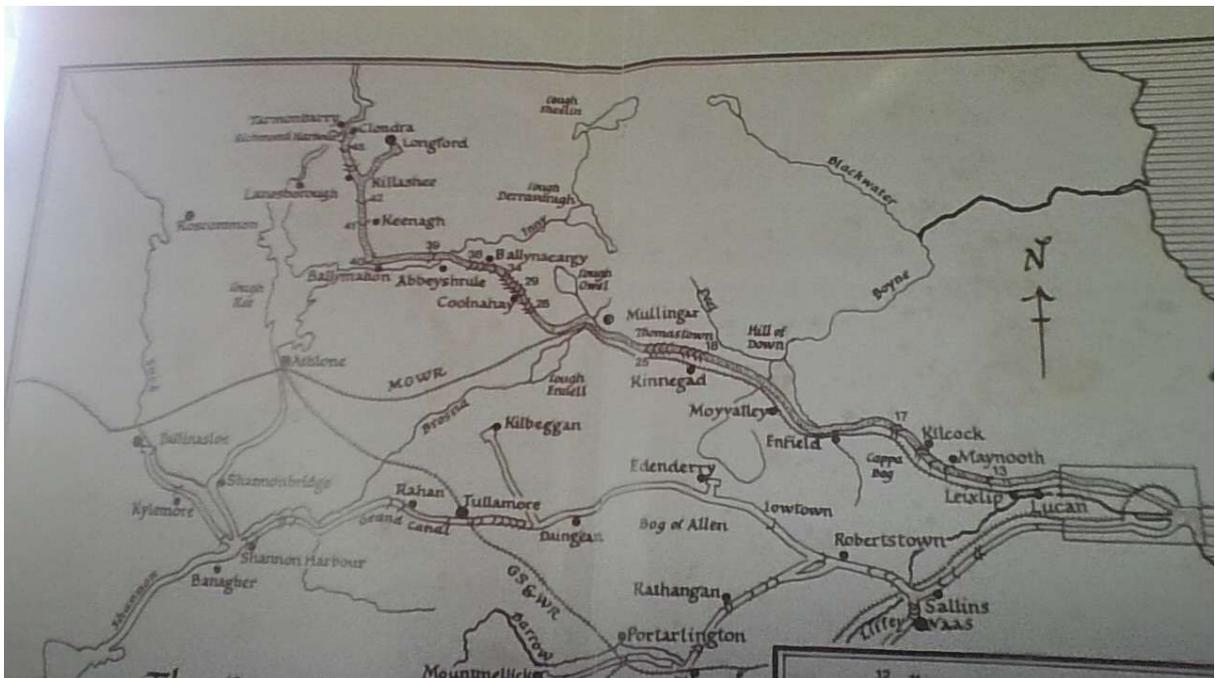

Photo no 5. Separate pumping equipment needed at the individual locks from 18 to 25

Photo no 6. A close-up view of the water level above lock 25.

The view of the next level above lock 25.

Map from Ruth Delaney's book on the Royal Canal showing lock 18 to lock 25.