

To whom it concerns:

With regards to planning application number 324153, may I respectfully request that prior to any building works on this site that a dignified excavation is undertaken to locate and preserve the remains of any humans that may have been buried at this site.

The reasons for my request are to:

1. balance the desperate need for new housing on the island of Ireland with
2. the equally desperate need to offer the families (e.g., siblings) of these people the future prospect of knowing where their deceased siblings/relatives are, and what their story is. I believe that this can be an incredibly healing process for many, and would appropriately reflect the compassion and caring for others for which the Irish people are known.

Thank you for your kind consideration of my request.

Respectfully yours
