A Chara,

I spend time every year with my daughter and son who are both residents of Lovely Leitrim. I have spent magical times soaking up the tranquillity and beauty of Dough Mountain with its breathtaking views. It is rare to find places like this.

It is hard to believe that this soulful place may be desecrated by monstrous wind turbine technology. A technology that will do irreversible damage to land, water, wildlife and environment. I hate to think of it being turned into a machine for energy production.

I am now in my ninetieth year and during the course of my life have been deeply saddened by what we humans have done to Nature - our Mother, in whom we move, live and have our being.

I want to add my voice to those who love Leitrim and want to preserve the natural beauty of Dough Mountain. I feel I must voice my concern and hope that reason will abound.

I therefore respectfully request that An Coimisiún Pleanála refuse permission for the proposed Lissinagroagh wind farm development.

PS. I am including a painting that I did of a sorrowful Mother Earth asking what are we doing to her.

Yours sincerely,
Miriam Moore, Ph.D.
