Gilbert won't forget influence of late pal

DAVID GILBERT has dedicated his best Crucible run to the memory of a great friend who turned his life and career around.

The 37-year-old may have knocked defending champion Mark Williams over the weekend but he is no overnight snooker sensation.

Gilbert's partying lifestyle saw him leave the tour in 2004 and was near destitute when pal Neal Cleaver took him in, even introducing him to his wife Abi, before World No 16 Gilbert, who has lost two big finals this season and is into a first quarter-final in Sheffield, said: 'I remember when I had just a big bag of clothes and nowhere to go. Neal is no longer with us but he helped me out and took me in. I wasn't in a great place he straightened me out. Then he got cancer and 12 months later he was gone.'

ANDY MURRAY says he is pain-free and could return to action in time for Wimbledon in July

Murray has not played since January's Australian Open when he seemingly announced his retirement. He has since had a second hip operation.

'I'm happy and pain-free,' he said. 'I've been hitting a few balls but I'm quite a long way from running around a court.'

JORGE CAMPILLO won his first European Tour title at the 229th Trophée Hassan II in Morocco

The 32-year-old Spanish golfer carded a final-round 71 to win by two shots. Ireland's Paul Dunne finished tied for 38th after finishing on four over for the tournament.

De Seaux leads field for Mullins

MIN and last year's winner Un De Seaux are two of three runners for Willie Mullins in the BoyleSports Champion Chase at Punchestown tomorrow.

The popular Un De Seaux was a brilliant winner of the two-mile showpiece on the opening day of the Punchestown Festival 12 months ago and has run just twice since giving Altior a run for his money in the Thigle Creek at Sandown before finishing fifth in the Ryanair Chase at Cheltenham.

Un De Seaux's stable companion Min was only fourth 12 months ago, but is an odds-on favourite for this year's renewal following his scintillating display in the JLT Chase at Aintree earlier this month. Ruby Walsh has unsurprisingly sided with Min, with Paul Townend partnering Un De Seaux.

Great Field completes the Mullins trio under Jody McGarvey, with the champion trainer deciding against running Douvan and Footpad.

The JP McManus-owned eight-year-old won the Grade One Ryanair Novice Chase over this course and distance a couple of years ago, but returns with something to prove following successive falls at Cork and Leopardstown.

The six-strong field is completed by Pat Fahy's Castle-grace Paddy, the Harry Fry-trained British raider Hell's Kitchen and Ordinary World from Henry de Bromhead's yard.

Cheltenham Festival hero Klassikal Dream will face five rivals when he bids to follow up in the Herald Champion Novice Hurdle.

Popular Ruby Walsh will ride Min in the Champion Chase at Punchestown

The five-year-old provided Mullins with a record sixth victory in the Supreme Novices' Hurdle at Prestbury Park and will be a hot favourite to add to his tally under Ruby Walsh in a race the champion trainer has also won on six occasions.

Klassikal Dream heads a formidable Mullins quartet that also includes quick Grabim (Paul Townend), Aramon (David Mullins) and Mister Blue Sky (Danny Mullins).

Gordon Elliott's Felix Desly is out to supplement his top-level triumph at Aintree, with Nicky Henderson's British challenger Champagne Platinum completing the line-up.

on the opening day of the Punchestown Festival is the Dooley Insurance Group Champion Novice Chase.

This extended three-mile contest sees Elliott's Delta Work is bidding to get back on the winning trail after finishing third in the RSA Chase at Cheltenham last month.

His big rivals are Henry de Bromhead's Cheltenham winner A Plus Tard and the Mullins-trained Getabard, who has been off the track since suffering a narrow defeat at Limerick over the Christmas period.

De Bromhead also saddles Chris's Dream, while Terence O'Brien runs Arkie Trophy third Articum.
