The breeding bird transect data used to form the baseline for the EIAR was collected through on-site observations by the Luas Ecology Team over the 2021 and 2024 summer periods; the result of which are displayed below.

SECTION 2: BREEDING BIRD STATIC SURVEY DATA

The below static bird song data was collected through the use of the Titley Scientific Chorus device, which allows for monitoring of lower frequency acoustic calls of fauna, including bird species. The device was placed in the wet willow-alder-ash woodland along the banks of the River Tolka for a 7-day period; the result of which are displayed below.
