Re: Submission re. restoration of a disused quarry located in the townland of Coolsickin or Quinsborough, Co Kildare under Section 37L, Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended).

Applicant: Bison Quarries Ltd.

Location: Coolsickin or Quinsborough, Monasterevin, Co. Kildare

Case Reference: 322722

Date: 31/07/2025

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This is a formal submission to the proposed restoration plan submitted by Bison Quarries Ltd. under Section 37L of the Planning and Development Act. The undersigned objects in the strongest possible terms to the granting of consent on the following principal grounds:

- The site is hydrologically sensitive, with a known history of groundwater drawdown and contamination linked to previous unauthorised activity.
- The restoration plan and Environmental Impact Assessment Report (EIAR) are legally and procedurally deficient, including a fatally flawed Appropriate Assessment (AA) Screening.
- The development poses a significant threat to private drinking water wells, local residents, a care facility for vulnerable individuals, and a wider protected hydrological catchment (River Figile leading to the River Barrow and River Nore Special Area of Conservation (SAC)).
- The proposal is non-compliant with European Union (EU) environmental law, Irish planning policy, and fails to satisfy the precautionary principle under Article 6(3) of the Habitats Directive.
- Cumulative, landscape, amenity, and traffic risks have been understated, misrepresented, or ignored.

This submission is supported by extensive reference to the Environmental Impact Assessment Report (EIAR), Restoration Plan, and prior site history, including unauthorised quarrying, and three years of unauthorised dewatering. While Bison Quarries Ltd. did not operate the quarry during its unauthorised use, they have since acquired the site and submitted a related Substitute Consent application, to which the undersigned has already made a detailed submission.

II. LEGAL AND PROCEDURAL FAILINGS

The proposal is procedurally flawed for the following reasons:

- Inadequate Appropriate Assessment (AA) Screening: The screening does not rule out significant effects on the River Barrow and River Nore SAC. Given known hydrological connectivity via the Figile River, a Stage 2 AA is legally required under Article 6(3) of the Habitats Directive.
- Premature Application: The quarry remains unauthorised pending a decision on substitute consent. Proceeding with a Section 37L application now would pre-empt that decision and contravene the Planning and Development Act.
- Unclear End-Use Definition: The stated intention to return the site to “agriculture” is vague and unsupported by any enforceable land management plan, agri-use feasibility assessment, or post-restoration soil profile strategy.
- Material Importation Ambiguity: No binding source controls or inertness verification procedures for imported fill are detailed. Without this, leachate risk remains unaddressed.
- Absence of Restoration Guarantees: The application lacks enforceable timelines, monitoring systems, or restoration bonds.

III. GROUNDWATER AND WELL RISK

The quarry intersects a locally important aquifer in a region with no public water supply. Private wells are the sole drinking water source for the surrounding population.

- Prior Dewatering Impact: Unauthorised operators previously pumped water from the quarry for up to three years, reportedly causing neighbouring wells to run dry. This history demonstrates the aquifer’s vulnerability to interference.
- Current Groundwater Levels: The quarry void remains flooded, with no plan disclosed for treatment or discharge of existing water. The water’s hydrochemistry is not assessed, despite the known canal bank discharge to the River Figile.
- Recharge Misunderstood: The EIAR claims that recharge is via direct rainfall. This simplification ignores catchment dynamics, the broken water table, and previous pumping-induced drawdown.

In the absence of a complete hydrogeological model, ABP cannot be satisfied that further excavation, infill, or water displacement will not harm local water users or downstream aquatic systems.

IV. HUMAN HEALTH, CARE HOME AND LOCAL AMENITY RISKS

- Care Home Proximity: A specialised residential care home supporting individuals with Prader-Willi Syndrome lies within 80 metres of the proposed entrance and approximately 120 metres from the quarry. The effects of dust, noise, and vibration are not addressed with respect to the specific vulnerabilities of its residents.

Prader-Willi Syndrome is a rare, complex genetic disorder characterised by cognitive disability, impaired pain response, behavioural regulation difficulties, and heightened sensitivity to stress and environmental stimuli. Residents are typically highly vulnerable to disruption from noise, dust, vibration, and changes in routine or environment. Any construction traffic, dust plumes, or prolonged disruption may trigger distress, disorientation, or health crises. This has not been considered in the EIAR or mitigation plan and constitutes a material omission under Schedule 6 of the Planning and Development Regulations.

- GAA Grounds and Recreational Route: A major sports complex lies within 1 km of the entrance. The R414 is used heavily by school buses, pedestrians, cyclists and visitors to the Barrow Blueway and Church of Oak Distillery. No footpaths, hard shoulders, or active travel assessments have been included.

V. ECOLOGICAL AND SAC CONNECTIVITY FAILINGS

- Connectivity to River Figile: The quarry drains toward the River Figile, a known tributary to the River Barrow and River Nore SAC. The historical pumping of quarry water onto the canal bank and into the Figile confirms this hydrological link.
- Inadequate Biodiversity Assessment: The EIAR fails to address cumulative impacts, neglects bat surveys, and downplays floral regeneration in the void.

No Bat Survey Conducted: Despite the presence of a flooded quarry void and partially vegetated margins — both recognised habitat types for roosting and foraging bats — no bat survey or dusk/dawn activity monitoring was carried out. This is a breach of guidance under the National Biodiversity Data Centre and Bat Conservation Ireland protocols.

Floral Regeneration Ignored: The EIAR downplays the ecological value of spontaneous revegetation within the quarry void and margins. Several native species were observed (e.g. willow, gorse, meadowsweet), suggesting early successional habitats, which are increasingly rare in intensively managed agricultural landscapes.

No Cumulative Biodiversity Assessment: The EIAR does not assess cumulative impacts on biodiversity when considered alongside the adjacent Behan site and historic quarry footprint. Under the EIA Directive and EPA Guidelines (2017), cumulative impact assessment is a legal requirement.

Absence of Mitigation Hierarchy: The restoration plan fails to follow the avoid–reduce–remedy–offset framework for ecological impacts. No biodiversity gain, habitat creation, or monitoring plan is proposed.

- Article 6(3) Breach: The Appropriate Assessment Screening fails to establish beyond reasonable scientific doubt that the development will not affect the integrity of the SAC. Under EU law, that requires refusal or a full Stage 2 AA.

VI. PRECEDENT: REFUSAL OF ADJACENT QUARRY RESTORATION APPLICATION (REF. 20/71)

In 2020, Kildare County Council refused permission for a restoration project at a site directly adjacent to the subject lands (Ref. 20/71, Behan Restoration Plan, Ballykelly/Coolsicken/Quinsborough). That decision is materially relevant to this case.

Key Parallels:

- Proximity and Catchment Sensitivity: The Behan site lies within the same River Barrow and River Nore Special Area of Conservation (SAC) catchment and hydrological corridor as the Bison site.
- Hydrogeological Vulnerability: The Behan site was refused based on concerns regarding unauthorised excavation below the water table and potential for groundwater contamination—both of which apply equally, if not more acutely, at the Bison site.
- Unauthorised Activity: Kildare County Council ruled that Section 34(12) of the Planning and Development Act could not be used to retrospectively authorise restoration where the underlying development itself required substitute consent and had not been regularised.

This precedent reinforces the principle that restoration plans submitted in parallel with, or in advance of, an unresolved substitute consent application is procedurally premature and materially deficient.

Application to the Bison Case:

- Bison Quarries Ltd. have acquired the Coolsickin or Quinsborough quarry but did not operate it during the unauthorised phase. Nevertheless, the site remains legally unauthorised pending a Board decision on substitute consent.
- It is inappropriate and legally unsound for An Bord Pleanála to consider a restoration plan under Section 37L before resolving the legal status of the quarry operations via the pending substitute consent application.
- Granting consent now would undermine the statutory process, pre-empt a Board decision on substitute consent, and contravene the logic used by Kildare County Council in refusing a virtually identical proposal nearby.

This submission therefore urges An Bord Pleanála to apply the same legal and procedural standards in this case, to ensure consistency, integrity, and compliance with planning law.

VII. FINAL OBSERVATIONS

While the undersigned acknowledges that An Bord Pleanála must balance a range of considerations, it is respectfully submitted that this application does not meet the legal, environmental, or procedural standards necessary for consent under Section 37L.

Key elements — including groundwater protection, Appropriate Assessment, clarity on restoration outcomes, and safeguards for vulnerable local receptors — remain unresolved. The deficiencies outlined are not minor or procedural in nature; they go to the core of the Board's statutory obligations under both Irish and European law.

The site's planning history, its current condition, and the inadequacy of the restoration framework collectively suggest that the proposal risks normalising unauthorised development while exposing sensitive receptors to unacceptable and unquantified impacts.

In light of the concerns outlined above, it is respectfully submitted that the Board should not grant consent for the proposed restoration unless and until the following conditions are met:

- A full Stage 2 Appropriate Assessment is completed;
- A detailed hydrological and well impact study is undertaken;
- Independent controls on infill material are legally secured;
- The restoration plan includes binding, enforceable outcomes and monitoring provisions;
- Local infrastructure and human health risks are properly assessed.

This is not an abstract concern. The site's planning history, hydrogeological sensitivity, and unresolved legal context collectively warrant extreme caution. A decision taken in the absence of such safeguards would, in the undersigned's view, undermine the integrity of the planning system and risk non-compliance with European environmental law. It is hoped that this submission will assist the Board in making a lawful, evidence-led and precautionary determination. It is hoped that the Board will consider this submission constructively and act in the interest of environmental protection, human health, and legal integrity.

This submission is supported by a detailed Appendix (Appendix A–E) containing planning precedent, photographic evidence, enforcement correspondence, community documentation, and hydrological risk material. The Board is respectfully asked to review this supplementary evidence in full as part of its deliberation

Explanatory Narrative for Each Section

Appendix A demonstrates that the site is hydrologically compromised, with a recorded history of water table breaches, unregulated pumping into protected waterways, and aquifer vulnerability – all insufficiently addressed in the current application.

Appendix B documents the immediate risks posed to vulnerable populations, road users, schoolchildren, and community facilities from dust, traffic, vibration, and cumulative health impact.

Appendix C evidences that the proposal lacks legal standing until the substitute consent matter is determined, and mirrors a prior refusal for a near-identical plan next door.

Appendix D provides legal precedent from three analogous ABP refusals, each based on similar facts: insufficient hydrological data, inappropriate sequencing, and SAC proximity.

Appendix E gives voice to widespread community opposition, reflecting over 1,000 local signatures, and reinforces the democratic weight of the submission.

Appendix B – Public Health and Local Amenity Impact

The care facility located 80 metres from the proposed quarry entrance houses residents with Prader-Willi Syndrome, a complex neurodevelopmental disorder characterised by impaired pain perception, respiratory vulnerability, and extreme sensitivity to environmental stressors such as dust, noise, and vibration.

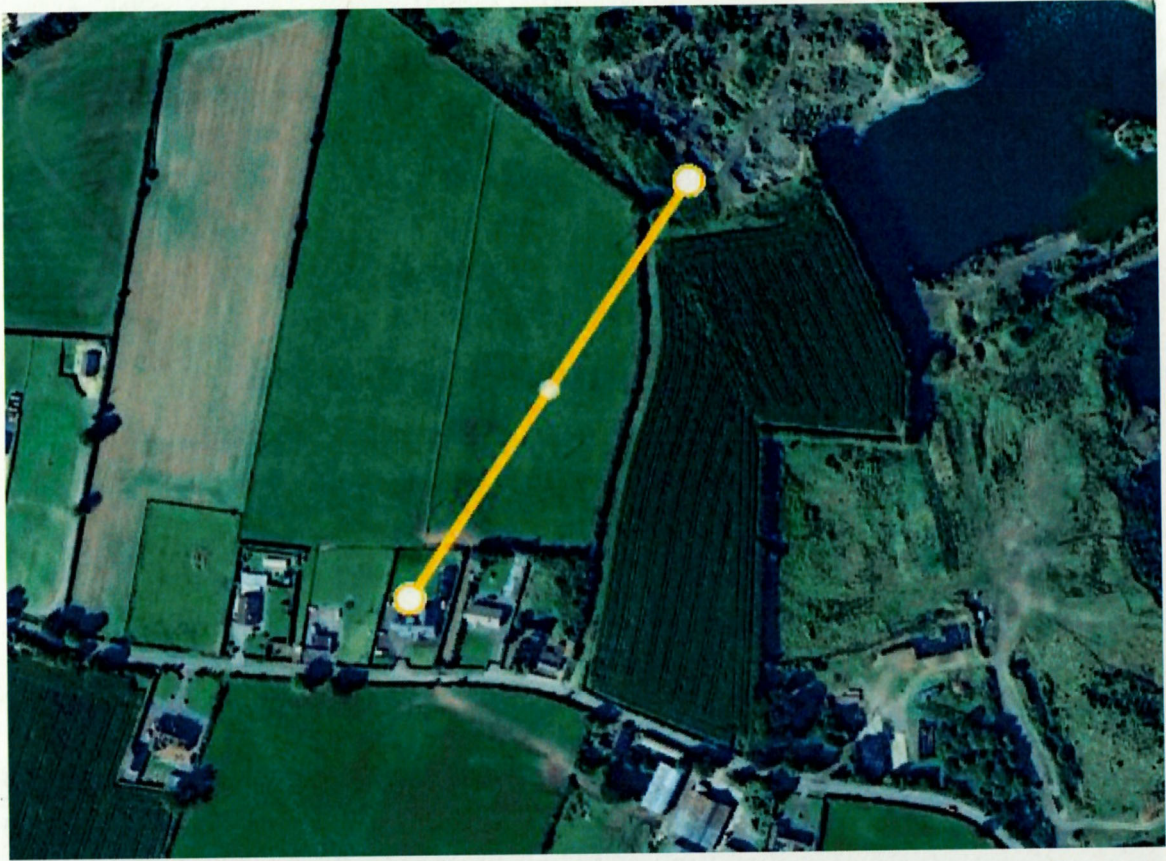

The EIAR makes no mention of this facility, nor does it assess or mitigate the site's impact on these medically vulnerable residents. This is a material breach of:

- Article 3(1)(b) of the EIA Directive (2011/92/EU, as amended);
- Schedule 6 of the Planning and Development Regulations (Ireland);
- The precautionary principle under Article 191 TFEU;
- And potentially, the Equal Status Act 2000.

The failure to identify this care home as a sensitive receptor invalidates the human health chapter of the EIAR and renders the application incomplete and legally deficient.

Policy Context

National Planning Framework

The National Planning Framework is the primary planning tool in the hierarchy of Ireland's planning system and sets out national strategies or policies which the Country should achieve, on each of which is as follows:

"Sustainable Management of Water, Waste and other Environmental Resources"

The framework aims to create a circular economy with balanced regional growth which recognises the importance of a national supply of aggregate and construction materials to the economy. It is a goal of the framework to balance rural development together with a sustainable provision of resources and the following is stated in Section 54:

"Extractive industries are important for the supply of aggregates and construction materials and minerals to a variety of sectors, for both domestic requirement and for export. This planning process will play a key role in realising the potential of the extractive industries sector by identifying and protecting important reserves of aggregates and minerals from development that might prejudice their utilisation."

"Aggregates and minerals extraction will continue to be enabled where this is compatible with the protection of the environment in terms of air and water quality, natural and cultural heritage, the quality of life of residents in the vicinity and provides for appropriate rehabilitation."

National Policy Goal 23 summarises this by stating the following:

"Facilitate the development of the rural economy through supporting a sustainable and economically efficient agricultural and food sector, together with forestry, fishing and aquaculture, energy and extractive industries, the bio-economy and diversification into alternative on farm and off-farm activities, while at the same time noting the importance of maintaining and protecting the natural landscape and built heritage which are vital to rural tourism."

Regional Spatial Economic Strategy 2019 - 2031

The Eastern & Midland Regional Assembly Regional Spatial & Economic Strategy 2019 – 2031 (RSES) sets out further detailed policies and objectives for the midlands and eastern regions as one unit. This includes identifying growth and economic opportunities and subsequently identifying where it is considered that growth should be focused to help ensure sustainable development.

Just as in the NPF, the RSES sets out 16 Regional Strategic Outcomes, of which the following is one:

"Sustainable Management of Water, Waste and other Environmental Resources Conserve and enhance our water resources to ensure clean water supply, adequate waste water treatment and greater resource efficiency to realise the benefits of the circular economy."

Regional Policy Objective 6.7 highlights the potential of rural resources and the juxtaposition between extraction and landscape tourism based economies:

"RPO 6.7: Support local authorities to develop sustainable and economically efficient rural economies through initiatives to enhance sectors such as agricultural and food, forestry, fishing and aquaculture, energy and extractive industries, the bioeconomy, tourism, and diversification into alternative on-farm and off-farm activities, while at the same time noting the importance of maintaining and protecting the natural landscape and built heritage."

Kildare County Development Plan 2017-2023

The site is not zoned and is situated in the rural area.

Chapter 10, and specifically Section 10.7 of the Kildare County Development Plan refers to the Extractive Industry. Policies EI 1 – EI 16 set out detailed requirements which seek to support and promote the extractive industry while also protecting the environmental capacity of the county. Many of the policies also set out development management requirements such as preparation of an Appropriate Assessment, Environmental Impact Assessment Report, Ecological Impact Assessment or Landscaping and Restoration Plans as appropriate. The policies also provide for the requirement of financial contributions or bonds from the Developer / Applicant in order to provide road improvements or completion of restoration works.

"EI 2 Recognise the role and facilitate the exploitation of County Kildare's natural aggregate resources in a manner which does not unduly impinge on the environmental quality and the visual and residential amenity of an area, while continuing to regulate the extraction of aggregates and to see the delivery of environmental benefits in the form of sustainable habitat creation in conjunction with the restoration phases of development.

El 3 Facilitate the sourcing of aggregates for and the operation of the extractive industry in suitable locations, subject to the protection of landscape, environment, road network, heritage, visual quality and amenity of the area.

El 4 Ensure that extraction activities address key environmental amenity, traffic and social impacts and details of rehabilitation in the assessment of planning applications for new development, intensification of use or diversification of activity, the Council will have regard to the nature of the proposal, the scale of activity proposed, the impact on the adjoining road network, the effect on the environment including important groundwater and aquifer sources, natural drainage patterns and surface water systems and the likely effects that any proposed extractive industry may have on the existing landscape and amenities of the county, including public rights of way and walking routes.

El 5 Ensure that development for aggregate extraction, processing and associated concrete product does not significantly impact the following:

- a) Special Areas of Conservation (SACs);
- a) Special Protection Areas (SPAs);
- a) Natural Heritage Areas (NHAs);
- a) Other areas of importance for the conservation of flora and fauna;
- a) Zones of Archaeological Potential;
- a) The vicinity of a recorded monument;
- a) Sensitive landscape areas as identified at Chapter 14 of this Plan;
- a) Scenic view and prospects;
- a) Protected Structures;
- a) Established rights of way and walking routes.

Chapter 17 specifically provides for development management standards throughout the County and Section 7.9.6 refers to the Extractive Industries as follows:

"Applications should submit information on the following items at application stage:

- a) Map(s) showing (i) total site area, (ii) areas to be excavated, (iii) any ancillary proposed development, (iv) nearest dwelling or any other development (within 1 km of the site);
- a) Description of the aggregate(s) to be extracted, method of extraction, any ancillary processes (such as crushing, concrete manufacture, etc.), equipment to be used, stockpiles, storage of soil and overburden, storage of waste materials, settling ponds;
- a) Total and annual tonnage of extracted aggregates, expected life of the extraction, maximum extent and depth of working, phasing programme;
- a) Description of development works (buildings, fixed and mobile plant, roads, fuel tanks, water supply and drainage, earth mounds, etc.).

Reg. Ref 20/71

Conclusion

In conclusion, Kildare County Council considers the planning application received on the 31st January 2020 by Judge Haulage Limited for the establishment of an inert soil waste recovery facility which is also comprised by an EIA and AIS; Reg. Ref 20/71; cannot be considered by the Planning Authority as the provisions of Section 34 (12) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended) are deemed to apply in this case.

Accordingly, the Planning Authority is precluded from considering the application and it should be returned to the Applicant, together with the fee and reasons for the decision, in accordance with Section 34(12) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended).

Recommendation

It is recommended that the planning application cannot be considered by the Planning Authority for the following reasons:

Reg. Ref 20/71

11

- 1 The application for the establishment of an inert soil waste recovery facility located within the townlands of Ballykelly, Coolisken and Quinsborough, Monasterevin, Co. Kildare, which is accompanied by an EIA and NIS (Reg Ref 20/71), cannot be considered by the Planning Authority as it includes the retention of unauthorised development(s) which would have required one or more of the following:

- (a) an environmental impact assessment,
- (b) a determination as to whether an environmental impact assessment (EIA) is required,
- Or
- (c) an appropriate assessment.

In this regard the provisions of Section 34(12) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended) apply, which states:

"A planning authority shall refuse to consider an application to retain unauthorised development of land where the authority decides that if an application for permission had been made in respect of the development concerned before it was commenced the application would have required that one or more than one of the following was carried out—

- (a) an environmental impact assessment,*
- (b) a determination as to whether an environmental impact assessment is required,*
- Or*
- (c) an appropriate assessment*

led in
Approximately 600,000 tonnes of soil and stones material has been imported to the site which requires an EIA as it falls within the provisions of Schedule 5, Part 2, Class 11 (b) of the Planning and Development Regulations 2001 (As amended) which is set out as follows:

"Installations for the disposal of waste with an annual intake greater than 25,000 tonnes not included in Part 1 of this Schedule."

An Appropriate Assessment is also required for the existing development of imported material due to connectivity between the site and the River Barrow and River Nore Special Area of Conservation for the imported material.

That development, comprising existing imported material, is unauthorised and retention permission is required for the following reasons:

- a) Development under Reg. Ref. D6/2729 has been rendered unauthorised by reason of failing to obtain Substitute Consent from An Bord Pleanála, pursuant to the An Bord Pleanála Decision ref. 09-QV-0123 which relates to Kildare County Council ref. QRA-21-001

b) The entire of planning permission 062/29 is predicated upon the extraction from the site at no point going below the ground water table. Condition No. 6 of Reg Ref. 06/2729 states:

"The final extraction depth shall be in no part of the site less than one meter above the level of the water table. A monitoring scheme shall be submitted to and agreed with the planning authority to measure the groundwater levels at the lowest part of the site, and to monitor the water level and measurement of suspended solids."

Reason: To prevent pollution of ground water.

Extraction has occurred in excess of 3m below the water table, as evidenced by the large water body on the site, thus rendering the entire development unauthorized.

c) Development, including quarrying, continued on site in breach of a number of conditions set out in Reg Ref. 062/29:

Decision

The regularisation of the development will necessitate an application for substitute consent made to An Bord Pleanála. The provisions of Section 177D of the Planning and Development Act, 2000 (as amended) refer.

Accordingly having regard to the issue set out above the Planning Authority is precluded from considering the application in accordance with the provisions of Section 34(2) of the Planning and Development Act, 2000 (as amended).

That development, comprising existing imported material, is unauthorised and retention permission is required for the following reasons:

- a) Development under Reg. Ref. 06/2729 has been rendered unauthorised by reason of failing to obtain Substitute Consent from An Bord Pleanála pursuant to the An Bord Pleanála Decision ref. 09-QV-0123 which relates to Kildare County Council ref. QRA 21-001.
- b) The entire of planning permission 06/2729 is predicated upon the extraction from the site at no point going below the ground water table. Condition No. 6 of Reg. Ref. 06/2729 states:

"The final extraction depth shall be in no part of the site less than one meter above the level of the water table. A monitoring scheme shall be submitted to and agreed with the planning authority to measure the ground water levels at the lowest part of the site and to monitor the water levels and measurements of suspended solids.

Reason To prevent pollution of ground water."

Extraction has occurred, in excess of 3m below the water table, as evidenced by the large waterbody on the site, thus rendering the entire development unauthorized.

- c) Development including quarrying, continued on site in breach of a number of conditions set out in Reg Ref. 062729.

Decision

The regularisation of the development would necessitate an application for substitute consent made to An Bord Pleanála. The provisions of Section 177D of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended) refer.

Accordingly, having regard to the issues set out above, the Planning Authority is precluded from considering the application in accordance with the provisions of Section 34(12) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended).

Appendix D – Relevant Planning Precedents

D1: ABP Ref. PL17.246080 – Castlebellingham, Co. Louth (Groundwater risk refusal)

Summary: Permission for backfilling a quarry was refused due to inadequate hydrogeological assessment. The site was located above a Regionally Important Aquifer and near private wells. The Inspector found that in the absence of baseline monitoring or material control, the proposed works presented a serious groundwater contamination risk.

D2. ABP Ref. PL19.248010 – Mountbolus, Co. Offaly (Lack of hydro-geological controls)

Summary: The Board refused a restoration proposal due to unspecified fill sources, absence of leachate characterisation, and deficient EIAR and AA screening. The precautionary principle was invoked due to the site's proximity to a locally important aquifer and SAC hydrological pathways.

D3. E3: ABP Ref. PL09.247905 – Blackhall, Clane, Co. Kildare (Failure to apply Article 6(3))

Summary: A proposed quarry extension and restoration was refused where hydrological links to a SAC could not be ruled out. The AA Screening was found inadequate and a full Stage 2 AA was deemed legally required under the Habitats Directive.
