Observation details

5. Please describe the grounds of your observation (planning reasons and arguments). You can type or write them in the space below or you can attach them separately.

A number of these turbines are visible from inside my house and more are visible from my garden. As I approach my house ~~from~~ driving home the tops of all or most of the turbines are visible. This is a big issue for me on dark evenings as there are red lights on the top of each turbine. I live in a place of huge natural beauty with no close neighbours of street lights. Now when I drive home it looks like I live beside an airport runway, a big cluster of bright red lights in the sky. It makes me very sad. I did not take these red lights into consideration while the turbines were being planned + built as I had no idea they would exist.

5. Please describe the grounds of your observation (planning reasons and arguments). You can type or write them in the space below or you can attach them separately.

- These constant (in dark) red lights ruin the natural beauty of the area.
- I imagine they are confusing to wildlife.
- They make me feel down as soon as they eerily appear as I round the corners of our beautiful country road on my way home.
- I no longer live in a dark sky area and cannot observe the stars as well as I could.
