Re: 309964: Booth Precast Limited, Ballymullen, Abbeyleix, Co. Laois. (105)

Laois County Council

Description

Whether the use of an outdoor gantry loading crane is or is not development or is or is not exempted development.

- Booth Precast Limited (1st party Referrer)

A Chara

I am writing in relation to the above, my reason is the Intensification that there is already 200+ Trucks passing my home from 5am in the morning till all hours at night, 7 days a week. I have a high court order which States hours Booth Concrete are allowed to operate 8am – 6pm Monday to Saturday, with no work on a Sunday which you will see from the traffic count (ex for 2 days) that this is not the case.

This is an unauthorised development and now they are looking to retain planning on the Gantry and they already have one and had no planning for this either. This is supposed to be a Business premises not an industrial estate as it is now. Ref 95/300 it is supposed to be a sand pit only not industrial units. They also have two batching plant built and these do not have planning permission, it needs planning as it is supplying Booth Precast with Sand & Gravel.

Unauthorised Developments:

The Following are all UD and allowed to operate:
Sean Willson – Ballyragget Ref: ENF2005
Days Pitt - Booths UD 13/81 and UD19/24
Padder Burke - UD 16/40
Odlum's - UD 20/12
J.Harris - UD 20/11

Kwik Precast - UD20/14

Tentore - UD19/19

Maher UD 16/154 (now closed)

Dooly's UD 14/56 (no longer draws)

Working from Booths: UD 02/15

UD 09/191

UD 14/97

UD 15/90

Laois Scaffolding working from Booths - UD 20/14 plus numerous others.

I am very aware that Booth Concrete does not have a discharge licence and are pumping waste into rivers.

From Jan 2020 Booths have been drawn from Sean Wilson in Ballyragget inside SJC - reported to Kilkenny County Council and nothing was done by Kilkenny County Council.

I reported Hazard waste in the past to LCC and I got no reply.

None of the above have on EIS. OR EIA

I am aware of BC bursting the water supply in Days Pitt Abbeyleix on two occasions and I have reported an overturned Track Digger. IN DAYS NO EIA & NO PLANNING

I had a high court order against BC which they do not adhere to. I took multiple cases against Booth Precast and I won all cases but as yet I have not received the ~~370k~~ 370k that I was awarded from the ~~solicitor~~. Booths

No. 2 The Parent and Connected Development:

In spite of there being No visible site notice Laois County Council granted permission for reference 12/46 on the 8th of May 2012. I attach correspondence regarding the validation of the site notice (attached as appendix 3), it should be noted that development consent was never granted for this development.

Previous to this, Planning ref; 10/290, permission was granted on appeal by An Bord Pleanala ref: PL11.239204 on the 2nd of November 2011.

The Ballymullen site has been extended in several directions in recent years, the main ones are marked on the map in appendix 1. The consequences and implications will have to be taken into account before this can be considered to be a valid application for 20/7

- Shale Quarrying (major intensification going on in last month) ! Increased by 8 Acres
- The Ballymullen development was extended to Ballymullen Farm ref UD20/11
- The quarry was then extended down the road where they removed a small plantation.
- In 2013 a scaffolding hire service started operating on and from the site without planning permission.

I attach a copy of the unauthorized development form for these unauthorized developments which I submit with this objection. (attached in appendix 2)

The Planning authority are obliged to consider the effects of the increased traffic passing my home including the increased damage caused by placing a footpath on the opposite of the road from my home, forcing this heavy traffic closer to my home which has increased the impact and structural damage caused to my boundary wall and to my home.

No. 3 History of the Ballymullen site:

The parent development is best described as a concrete block and precast concrete manufacturing plant which has now been intensified to include shale quarrying.

In brief Mr. Phil Butler sold concrete batching plant to Arastra – this is confirmed Aidan O'Connell's letter of the 15th of December 2004 to Laois County Council, which goes on to state:

'the extraction of sand and gravel is exclusively Butlers, none by Arastra, the material is not suitable for concrete manufacturing'

Mr. Phil Butler passed away in April 2005. In 2006 Mrs. Kay Butler sold a disused Quarry with a license to Booth Concrete.

Since 2001 - Current date all the majority of truck movements relate to Booth Ready-mix, Precast and Blocks, which require input of raw materials into Ballymullen since there is not suitable on site.

Booth Concrete started the Precast Concrete business in 1994 in Bland's.

Kwik Precast started approx. 4 years ago manufacturing concrete columns and there is another company manufacturing Breton slabs and concrete in 2018.

In 1994 Arastra Construction (Booth Concrete) moved to Bland's of Blandstort.

Since 2001 Booth Concrete started in Ballymullen, Abbeyleix, and drew all their material from Bland's and other Quarries UD.

Booths supply all concrete related material to all companies on site, all coming from unauthorized developments. Approx. 1000 tonne per day going onto Ballymullen site for processing.

I have a high court order which is being ignored by Booth Concrete.

No. 4 Planning History of the sand and gravel abstraction:

The first application for is dated 15th May 1995 was on an area of 4.515 HA. Condition no.26 was for a plan to reinstate the lands. Mr. Phil Butler obtained planning permission under planning register reference 95/300 on the 2nd of September 1996 which granted planning permission for the development of land namely 'to retain concrete plant, extraction of sand and grand and washing facility at Ballymullen House, Ballymullen, Abbeyleix subject to 31 conditions.

Conclusion 1. No assessment of the Impact on the SAC site code 2126:
No assessment in compliance with Article 3 of the EIA directive has ever been carried out for this development (see case C-50/09). Retention permission is not available for developments that have commenced before an application for development consent has been made and approved C-215/06.

Conclusion 2. No Enforcement:
It has always been the position of the planning authorities in respect of this site that it should be reconstituted once quarrying had ceased but conditions 1,2,3,5,15 and 26 of 95/300 and condition no. 11 of register reference 98/780 are not being complied with and the Planning authority are not enforcing them.

No. 5 Location of the Ballymullen site:
The development site is Adjacent to Abbeyleix Bog otherwise known as Killamuck Bog, covering an area of 109 HA and which contains three Annex 1 habitats but has not been officially designated. (Grid reference 2433700 / 182600) *. The site is drained by a natural drain between the bog to the west and a man-made drain to the east both of which are connected to the River Nore site code 216.

I have also enclosed some photographs which have dates of out of hour working and also of some dangerous loads. You have to appreciate that there are families living along this stretch of road and the number of trucks going in and out of Booth Concrete is massive and with dangerous loads and narrow roads it's an accident waiting to happen.

Conclusion:

The bottom line a Major Industrial Unit Built with the Infor structure to carry 2 10 foot Gantry for the benefit of Booth Precast and Kwik Precast, The overall Height and Length and Width is huge.

Kind Regards
Tom W. Kelly

Judge dismisses case due to lack of concrete evidence

AN Abbeylax man who took photographs of the local concrete plant to ensure the company was in compliance with High Court orders had a public order case dismissed against him when he appeared at Portlaoise District Court last Thursday.

Tom McEvoy (54) with an address at Ballymullen, Abbeylax contested that on 16 April 2010 at Ballymullen, Abbeylax he engaged in threatening, abusive and insulting behaviour.

Taking the stand, Michael Carroll said in his sworn evidence that he worked as a fitter with Booth Concrete at Ballymullen for the past 11 years.

He said that at about 7.55am that morning, while waiting for the gates of the plant to open, "a man with a big camera took photos of me. I knew him as Tom McEvoy. I don't like anyone taking photos of me. He said nothing to me. I knew him from just passing down the road. He's always looking at you."

Mr Carroll told the court that Mr McEvoy was standing by his own car pointing the camera towards him. He stated; "I was wondering why he was taking photos. What his problem was? He does be hiding in the ditches across the road in the field taking photos as well."

Mr McEvoy, Julie Gillane, instructed by solicitor Marie McGeer from Sheridan/Quinn solicitors, said that Mr Carroll was a very loyal employee to the company and that his employer was in court.

She asked Mr Carroll if he was aware that a High Court order had been made limiting the number of trucks using the concrete facility on a daily basis. She asked him since the order was imposed had production decreased or his wages decreased. Mr Carroll agreed there had been a decrease in production and a decrease in his income.

concerns, Tom McEvoy was also on hand surveying the clean-up work.

Mr McEvoy had described the site as a "licking time bomb" with "lethal asbestos mixed in with rubble."

The company said it had previously cleaned up the site and had disposed of low grade asbestos sheeting that had been on it. They said they had inspected the site recently with representatives from an accredited asbestos waste disposal company and found "material was planted on site by someone."

The company asserted "there is no health hazard arising from this site," and gave an undertaking that the works would be carried out by the end of this month in accordance with Laois Co Council's instructions.

On Monday our photographer Luke O'Brien, while taking photographs of the ongoing work, said: "There was a frank exchange of views between one of the company's directors and Mr McEvoy."

THE clean-up of the old Midland Dairies site on the Mountath Road in Portlaoise containing hazardous asbestos began on Monday.

Two weeks ago, the Laois Nationalist revealed that the owners of the site, Pat, Peter and John Booth, trading as Booth Partnership, had been served with notice from Laois Co Council to clean up their site or face up to ten years in jail or a maximum fine of £15 million.

Two of the company's directors and a specialist company from Kildare, Environmental Waste Technologies Limited, which deals with hazardous waste including asbestos, were on site on Monday. A number of workers wore protective clothing, hard hats and breathing masks during the clean-up operation.

The man who claimed he had been raising the issue of asbestos on the site for over seven years with the relevant authorities and local councillors, but had got very little response to his
